

The National Valve Museum

Updates July 2017

I have revised some of the software. The ephemera file can now contain entries, where no adverts or boxes are present in the museum, but where we have valve(s) and makers brief details.

The extras menu in exhibits, will point to the ephemera page before the plain valve index if any additional information is present.

The extras menu for advert pages and box pages now points to the ephemera index page for that make/brand. This removes the annoyance of clicking an advert (box) link within an entry and then not being able to see the other adverts (boxes) for that company.

Some brief company details have been added for:-

362
