

The Valve Museum

Updates February 2019

This month the articles and features are mainly taken from editions of the Mullard House magazine Mullard Outlook that was aimed at their dealers. The magazine contained commercial information and a middle section aimed at the technical departments. Thanks to Terry Billau for donating this primary historical material.

I was sorting out a cupboard and found a bundle of trade magazines – so more adverts and features.

I have altered the software to allow multiple entries for the extras menu in the classified indexes and have started to link articles specific to that index.

Thanks to Mark Mallison and Alex Dutton for photographic entries this month.
